

Would you like a Good Faith Estimate?

The No Surprises Act protects people from getting surprise medical bills when they have an emergency, get services from an out-of-network provider at an in-network facility, or get services from an out-of-network air ambulance service provider. Under the No Surprises Act, you are entitled to receive a “Good Faith Estimate”. This serves as an estimation of the cost of potential physical therapy services. This is not an indication of how many physical therapy visits may be necessary or appropriate. Your total cost of services will depend on the number of physical therapy sessions you attend. This estimate is not a contract nor does it obligate you to obtain any services from the provider.
